

Productive Cattle Start with "ClariFly"

House flies, stable flies, face flies and horn flies all have an impact on your cattle. They bite, they feed, they spread disease, all lowering dairy cattle performance.

"ClariFly" larvicide is a feed additive that prevents the development of these pesky flies in the manure of treated cattle. When mixed into cattle feed, "ClariFly" passes through the digestive system into manure where flies lay their eggs. The active ingredient prevents "pupae" from becoming breeding, disease carrying adult flies.

"ClariFly" can be safely used in many liquid feed products.

NO milk or meat withdrawal.

Low impact on human health or groundwater contamination.

For pennies a day you can treat your herd and help improve milk production this summer. "ClariFly" costs as little as 5 cents per head per day.
